Speaker 1: “We are obviously the grandparents of these 4 wonderful children. When our first grandchild was born, it was actually Renee’s idea, to do something special for them. And we have been very fortunate in our lives and as grandparents, it may not be our responsibility, we certainly think it’s a great legacy to lead for your grandchildren and to help your children in a good way. We bought the four year tuition plan for all of them and after they were, at a social security number, and we have been very happy with that decision because we all know that tuition is only going to go up over the years of their lives and it’s odd, because some people ask ‘Well why do you do it as a grandparent?’ And well you don’t have the financial obligations that your children have, so we thought this would be great for the kids to take some pressure off tem and make sure the grandchildren have the opportunity to go to school.”

Speaker 2: “We are obviously very grateful to Pat and Renee for you know, our kids tuition because it takes a huge burden off as we are planning the futures of our kids. Of course Chris went to UCF and I went to Florida, and we loved the thought of our kids staying in state and going to school. So I’m just very appreciative and excited that they’re going to have that opportunity and that we’ll be able to save for them in other ways.”

Speaker 3: “I can tell you that I was very, very, very fortunate for such a generous gift for our kids futures and knowing the rising tuitions going forward and where it could be in 10 years is a tremendous burden lifted off our shoulders as a family. Our kids get to go to college and that’s such a fantastic thing. And yet from my own experience, it was a burden on my parents as I went to college. And to have this taken care of is you know, we’re just deeply grateful. And in talking with friends as their kids are actually going to college now, the stress and the worry on their shoulders is very, very big. Again this is just a fantastic gift that can be given.”
